Regal and Apple Original Films Partner to Provide Access to "Being Heumann" at Select Regal Theatres

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., October 15, 2026 – In celebration of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Regal will present the theatrical release of Apple Original Films' Being Heumann, directed by Academy Award winner Siân Heder (CODA), to moviegoers on November 9-11 with 504 open-caption showtimes spread across 100+ select Regal locations nationwide with tickets priced at $5.04.

"The diversity of moviegoers is represented through both the programming and the audience at our theatres," said Jack Grimes, Senior Director Alternative Business Development at Regal. "Being Heumann spotlights the activists who helped shape the Americans with Disabilities Act, which keeps cinema operators mindful of the diverse entertainment interests and accessibility needs for all our guests. We are proud to bring this film to Regal."

Based on true events, Being Heumann recounts the story of Judy Heumann (played by Ruth Madely), a young disabled woman who, alongside a scrappy coalition of outsiders, led the longest occupation of a federal building in American history in 1977, spontaneously seizing the government offices and refusing to leave until the bureaucrat in their way (Mark Ruffalo) took action. Bringing rebellion in all its forms to the hallowed halls, a movement's accidental leaders struggled to find their path forward where none had ever been paved for them.

The sit-in led to the signing of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the first federal civil-rights protection prohibiting discrimination against people with disabilities in programs that receive federal funding. Judy's victory became a landmark in disability rights, helping lay the foundation for the Americans with Disabilities Act. Being Heumann is the revolutionary, irreverent and deeply human story of the least likely people trying to pull off the impossible and change the lives of millions. The film will debut in select theatres on November 6 prior to its November 13 global streaming premiere on Apple TV.

Advance tickets for the November 9-11 showtimes of Being Heumann at select Regal locations are available now at theatre box offices / kiosks, on the mobile app, and through REGmovies.com. Moviegoers can also join Regal Rewards+, a monthly membership offering a free rolling movie ticket and concession discounts, or Regal Unlimited, where subscribers see as many movies as they want, whenever they want.
